Product description

Compass keychain for a travel fan

A compass keychain is a great tourist gadget and a useful gift for a travel fan. It will be useful during small and large trips, walks in the woods and hiking. You can attach it to your keys, belt loops or backpack and always have it with you. The compass keychain will make it easier to set directions, orientate yourself in the field, read the map and plan your route.

Keychain housing made of brass. Antique brass finish. A compass on a thong. Fastening with a ring.
