Product description

Frame display - Elite White 18 x 23 cm

A series of elegant frames for the presentation of the product that allow you to show the object in a completely new form. The presented item is placed between two flexible silicone membranes, which allows the product to be suspended in the air.

The great advantage of Elite frames is the ability to exchange items inside the frame at any time, thanks to which the display can dynamically change with the needs of the exhibition.

The Elite 5950.40.003 frame is in a universal shape designed for medium-sized items such as key rings, bracelets, structural elements, etc.
